The Urban Fabric of Crime and Fear

Contents

Fields of interests
Criminology & Criminal Justice; Landscape/Regional and Urban Planning; Human Geography

Target groups
Research

Product category
Contributed volume

---

The Immutable Laws of Mankind

The Struggle For Universal Human Rights

The key question for the history of universal human rights is why it took so long for them to become established as law. The main theme of this book is that the attainment of universal human rights required heroic struggle, first by individuals and then by ever-increasing numbers of people who supported those views against the major historical trends. Universal human rights are won from a hostile majority by outsiders.

Features
- Is provocative and intended to arouse debate among scholars and practitioners
- Gives historical context to the development of universal human rights
- Combines information and a thesis in a way not found in other English language texts
- Contests the Anglo-Saxon paternity of universal human rights

Contents

Fields of interests
Political Science, general; History; Political Philosophy

Target groups
Research

Product category
Monograph

---

Evidence-Based Practice in Clinical Social Work

Contents

Fields of interests
Social Work; Psychotherapy and Counseling; Psychotherapy

Target groups
Research

Product category
Monograph
Social Justice in the U.S.-Mexico Border Region

Contents

Fields of interests
Sociology, general; Migration; Political Science, general

Target groups
Research

Product category
Contributed volume

Environmental Archaeology

One of the most significant developments in archaeology in recent years is the emergence of its environmental branch: the study of humans’ interactions with their natural surroundings over long periods, and of organic remains instead of the artifacts and household items generally associated with sites. With the current attention paid to human responsibility for environmental change, this innovative field is recognized by scientists, conservation and heritage managers, and policymakers worldwide. In this context comes Environmental Archaeology by Elizabeth Reitz and Myra Shackley, updating the seminal 1981 text Environmental Archaeology by Myra Shackley.

Features
▸ First book to enable readers to learn about the wide range of materials and methods in environmental archaeology ▸ Helps to evaluate and discriminate among methods ▸ Continues in the tradition of the first edition, published by Plenum, while also bringing in advances and updates in the methodology of the field itself

Contents

Fields of interests
Archaeology; Environment, general

Target groups
Research

Product category
Manual

Due April 2012

2012. Approx. 240 p. 17 illus. Hardcover
▸ $129.00

Due May 2012

2012. XII, 468 p. 152 illus., 7 in color. (Manuals in Archaeological Method, Theory and Technique) Hardcover
▸ $179.00
ISBN 978-1-4614-3337-8