New Series
China Academic Library

This book series is a cooperation project by Springer and Foreign Language Teaching and Research Press of China. The series is aimed at collecting, organizing and presenting the masterpieces in contemporary China studies. Titles in this series include not only those by Chinese authors studied and worked abroad during early times and their works were originally in English and had already made great impacts in the Western world, such as Hu Shi, Fei Xiaotong and others; but also, the series contains works by more recent authors, Chinese or non-Chinese, that are of critical intellectual importance in introducing and understanding the transformation of the modern Chinese society. A wide variety of topics are covered by the series, from philosophy, economics, and history to law, cultural geography and regional politics. This series will be a key English language resource for researchers and students in China study and related subjects, as well as for general interest readers.

Fields of interest
Humanities, general; History

Target groups
Research

Discount group
Professional Non-Medical

Due March 2013
2013. IX, 272 p. (China Academic Library) Hardcover
► $179.00
ISBN 978-3-642-35815-9