About the MATP journal

Multimedia Tools and Applications publishes original research articles on multimedia development and system support tools as well as case studies of multimedia applications. It also features experimental and survey articles. The journal is intended for academics, practitioners, scientists and engineers who are involved in multimedia system research, design and applications.

For further information, please, refer to the “Aims and scope” section on the Website of the MTAP Journal.

Aims and scope of this special issue

This Special Issue will include a selection of the best papers presented at the 2018 Edition of Interacción 2018, the 19th International Conference on Human-Computer Interaction, held from the 12th to the 14th of September 2018 in Palma, related to the proposed topics:

- innovative proposals regarding advanced interaction paradigms and models
- design and study of interaction techniques and systems
- assistive technologies
- novel multimedia tools and applications for every-day life e.g., for healthcare or education

A special space will be reserved to substantially enhanced and enriched papers dealing with Multimedia Tools and Applications for Human-Computer Interaction participating in the 19th International Conference on Human-Computer Interaction, Interacción 2018. These papers should stress aspects of the proposed approaches related to the multimedia tools, applications and paradigms. We also expect high quality contributions from authors that did not attend the conference, which are more than welcome.
Submitted papers should present original, unpublished work, relevant to one of the topics of the Special Issue. All submitted papers will be evaluated on the basis of relevance, significance of contribution, technical quality, scholarship, and quality of presentation, by at least three independent reviewers. It is the policy of the journal that no submission, or substantially overlapping submission, be published or be under review at another journal or conference at any time during the review process. Please choose the article type containing “1141T” when submitting.

Important dates

Deadline for submission of papers: 15\textsuperscript{th} of February 2019.

Submission guidelines

Submissions should be prepared according to the author instructions available at the journal homepage, by following the link to the “Instructions for Authors”.
