

Clinical Journal of Gastroenterology

Disclosure Form

Conflict of Interest

When submitting a manuscript to the Clinical Journal of Gastroenterology, all authors are required to disclose any financial relationship (within the last 3 years) with a biotechnology manufacturer, a pharmaceutical company, or other commercial entity that has an interest in the subject matter or materials discussed in the manuscript. The matters requiring disclosure are outlined in the JSGE Conflict of Interest Policy.

	Category	Applicability*				If applicable, indicate the names of the companies/organizations
		(Please check either Yes/No/Not Applicable for each item)
			Yes	No	N/A
1	Board member/advisor of a company or for-profit organization and the amount of compensation (Applicable if annual compensation from any one company or organization is ¥1 million or more)	Presenter				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
		Family Member				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
2	Ownership of corporate stocks and profits earned from the stocks (Applicable if an annual profit from one company's stock is ¥1 million or more or you or your relative have ownership of 5% or more of the company's outstanding shares)	Presenter				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
		Family Member				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
3	Patent royalties received from a company or for-profit organization (Applicable if an annual loyalty payment received is ¥1 million or more for use of one patent)	Presenter				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
		Family Member				<input style="width: 100%; height: 20px;" type="text"/>
4	Per diem, honorariums, etc. paid by a company or for-profit organization for the time and energy spent by a researcher to attend or give a presentation or advice at a meeting (Applicable if a total amount of ¥500,000 or more of per diem, honorariums, etc. is received from one company or organization in a year)	Presenter				<input style="width: 100%; height: 40px;" type="text"/>
5	Fees paid by a company or for-profit organization for writing a pamphlet, etc. (Applicable if a total amount of ¥500,000 or more in fees is received from one company or organization in a year)	Presenter				<input style="width: 100%; height: 40px;" type="text"/>

6	Research grants from a company or for-profit organization (for joint research, commissioned research, clinical trials), etc. (Applicable if research grants are awarded by one company or organization for medical research and the total contracted amount for research actually allocated for the presenter to essentially have discretion over their use is ¥1 million or more in a year)	Presenter
7	Scholarship grants from a company or for-profit organization (Applicable if scholarship grants are awarded by one company or organization to the presenter or to the chair, field, or laboratory the presenter is affiliated with and the total amount of the grants actually allocated for the presenter to essentially have discretion over their use is ¥1 million or more in a year)	Presenter
8	Endowed chair from a company or for-profit organization (Applicable if you are affiliated with an endowed chair from a company, etc.)	Presenter
9	Trips and other gifts unrelated to research, education, or healthcare (Applicable if a total amount of ¥50,000 or more is provided from one company or organization in a year)	Presenter

If any of the above items (1 to 9) apply to author(s) of the article, the corresponding author should provide the statement in the space below by using the following examples for each author.

Use either of the sentences below to declare the Conflict of Interest for this study. The statements should list each author separately by name.

- A (author name) received a research grant from Z; B serves as a consultant to Y (entity name); C received lecture fees from X; D received honoraria for writing promotional material for W; E holds a patent on V; F's spouse is chairman of U.

or

- A (author name), B and C declare that they have no conflict of interest.

Human Rights

Please confirm that this study has been performed in accordance with the appropriate ethical standards and that there will be no problem publishing the statement below. If this study does not include any data about human subjects, edit the text in the space below.

Informed Consent

For studies involving human subjects, please confirm that the patients/subjects have given their Informed Consent and that there will be no problem publishing the statement below. If this study does not involve human subjects and does not apply to giving Informed Consent, edit the text in the space below.

When your manuscript is accepted for publication, all the above disclosure statements will be inserted between the acknowledgement and reference section in your article.